

First Nations First Consultation

We are reaching out to First Nations people working in the arts and culture sector to gather your invaluable feedback on the formation of Creative Australia's new First Nations-led Board.

Creative Australia has engaged atticusnow with a nationwide team of leading First Nations consultants - including IPS Management Consultants (IPS).

The purpose of these forums is to seek feedback from the First Nations arts and culture sector, on how Creative Australia should set up, govern, implement, invest and deliver on its new role and responsibilities for First Nations First.

Your voice is key to guiding Creative Australia on this journey. We can't wait to hear your thoughts and ideas!
